

Lists of books purchased and borrowed by the Commons Library 2008 onwards

Since October 2013, the House of Commons Library has regularly published details of the books which have been most frequently borrowed from the Library, and which titles it has purchased specifically in response to requests from Members of Parliament. Some information relating to the most frequently borrowed books during the years 2008–2013 is also included.

Please note: The tables containing information relating to the period from 1 April 2019 show House of Commons Library book loans from Members of Parliament only. The tables containing information relating to the period prior to 1 April 2019 take account of all loans made; not only loans to Members of Parliament, but also to staff of the House and to other libraries too.

The tables containing this information were prepared in response to freedom of information requests received by the Library.

About the Commons Library

The House of Commons Library provides impartial information and research services for Members of Parliament and their staff in support of their parliamentary duties.

Research briefings

One of the main products of the Library are the research briefings which are published to the parliamentary website. These briefing papers offer an independent summary of facts on subjects of interest, particularly legislation proceeding through Parliament.
